People Are Not Saving Power

WILL PULL SWITCHES

Citizens Are Still Using Electricity As If It Was Unlimited — Grimsby People Are Suddenly Going To Find Themselves Eating Half Cooked Food Unless They Do Some Conserving.

Despite several measures taken to conserve power during the past week, to-day Grimsby has not saved one single little old kilowatt hour. Local industry has co-operated in every way possible to conserve, while street lights have been reduced or cut out entirely in many instances. The biggest pump at the pump house has now been cut off, and yet figures which have been forwarded to The Independent, show that no saving whatsoever can be reported at this time.

GRAPE MARKET SCHEME DID NOT MATERIALIZE

304 Growers Voted Yes And 42 Against — "Yes" Vote Not 25 Per Cent Of Total Growers.

A proposed fresh grape marketing scheme to establish minimum prices and other conditions of sale for table grapes shipped out of the Niagara Peninsula has been rejected. It has been announced by the Farm Products Marketing Board, Queen's Park, Toronto.

The board stated its action was based on the indecisive result of the ballot vote by the growers concerned, taken during the last two

After 14 Years Of Service To The Public He Will Retire To Private Life After Saturday—Quite Possible That The Crown Attorney Will Have To Take Over Town Policing.

Within 12 hours of the action of town council in deciding to hire a third man for the local police force Chief Constable W. W. Turner handed in his resignation to Chairman of the Police Committee James Braid, and will cease to be a public servant after Saturday, October 2nd.

In a statement given to the press Chief Turner said:

Firm In Montreal Would Build Paper Mill For The Production Of Cigarette Papers From The Trimmings From Fruit Trees—Milder Smoking.

(Financial Post)

Cigarette paper from fruit tree trimmings. That is what Shaw-Manson Ltd. a newly-formed Canadian company, hopes to manufacture in a proposed 16-ton-a-day Ontario pulp plant. Estimated cost of the mill is $270,000 and cost of the property is not expected to exceed $10,000, according to the prospectus offering 25,000 1/4% cumulative preferred and 4% common shares.

Investigations into the possibility of making pulp from fruit tree trimmings began in Toronto in 1938. Two years later the Pulp and Paper Research Laboratory in Montreal picked up the idea and manufactured about 1,400 pounds of pulp. The process was patented in several countries by the Shaw-Manson Holding Corp. It is stated, Shaw-Manson will operate under an exclusive license from this corporation for Canada, United States, Great Britain and France.

According to the prospectus,

A question that has been bandied about the council table for nearly 18 months was finally settled on Monday night when town council in special session decided to hire a third constable for the local police department.

Chairman of Police Braid who has consistently asked for a third constable all year brought the matter to the fore when he explained that Chief of Police Turner had been offered a position with a district firm, but that he was not inclined to accept it if council

On Sunday, October 3rd, the service for the dedication and laying of the corner stone of the new West Lincoln Memorial Hospital will be conducted. All members of the district are invited to take part in the service which will commence at 3.00 p.m.

The order of service will include mass singing of thanksgiving hymns under the leadership of the Beamsville Band and the Smithville choir.

The Honorable Russell T. Kelley, Minister of Health, will lay the corner stone, after which the raising of the flag and the sounding of reveille will herald this new day of greater care for our sick.

The dedication prayer will be given by the Rev. E. F. Munnell, Beamsville, followed by a child's prayer by Lois Bedford, Grimsby. The service will conclude with the singing of O Canada and the national anthem, and the benediction.

Members of the West Lincoln Girl Guides and the 1st Beamsville Boy Scout Troup will form a guard of honour. Seating accommodation and copies of the order of service will be provided by the nursing staff, which will be present in uniform.

SMITHVILLE FAIR WAS TYPICAL ONTARIO ONE

Large Crowd—Fine Exhibits — Good Horse Racing, All Go To Make For A Perfect Day.

Children's faces liberally smeared with red from their candied apples; swarthy "carnies" laughing with the crowd when they lose, and showing a sudden reversal when a lucky customer wins; proud farmers showing off their matched percherons; a tired looking woman with babe in arms, looking for the rest of her brood; lattered little monkeys in a sideshow with the usual quantity of fleas; luscious looking home-made bread, cookies and cakes on display; a patched quilt that has taken first prize for eight years handrunning. This then is the country fall fair. This is a Canadian institution. This is democracy.

The Smithville Fall Fair is just about like all fall fairs, with its dusty tracks, shabby grandstand, open fields, which for one great day of the year are transformed into a sea of color, whirling machines, and pleasure seeking people who come in droves, not so much

A RELIC OF THE GOOD OLD DAYS

This old sleigh of by-gone days at "Green Trees" Gift and Guest House has attracted a good deal of comment this summer from visitors from all over the continent and has been used many times by them for a setting in taking snapshots. It has become a landmark and sign post of distinction. It also suggests to you a very emphatic WHOA! and an invitation to stop and look at the lovely new merchandise on sale for the Second Anniversary of "Green Trees."

FACTS & FANCIES

Frank Fairborn, Jr.

FREE TO WRITE

Next week Fire Prevention Week, but it is also National Newspaper Week, so while Mayor Bull ably discusses the former, I will devote a little attention to the latter. It is, by heredity, occupation, choice and pay check, closer to my heart.

Sitting here, propped up in front of a typewriter, I am free to write anything I desire just so long as it is within the bounds of common decency and the liberal postal regulations. I can publish that writing in my newspaper and send it through the mails into the homes of this community. I need show this column, before it is published, to no one. I am the sole judge of what will occupy this space this week.

Here in Canada we call that "Freedom of the Press." It came down to me as a marvelous privilege, from the men who founded our country. It is not a "smart alec" right which I can abuse, because it is governed by the needs, requirements and good judgment of the people of my community. They demand of me the truth wherever it is possible to obtain it, and accuracy in my reporting. They can, by the very weight of their collective opinions, put my humble opinions out of business.

So then, Freedom of the Press, as we celebrate it during National Newspaper week is not merely my freedom to print what I please. It is, let's say, my right to say what I think in my own newspaper providing I do not offend the patriotism, the good morals and the collective better judgment of a majority of my readers.

This is a marvelous privilege, compared with what the Press of the rest of the world enjoys. Only free men enjoy the right of a free press... but it is also true that only a free press can guarantee and maintain the rights of a free people. Sitting here, I can write that I dislike the policies of my government and my cabinet ministers; that I don't like the way the army is being run; that church services will be held next Sunday. But the larger portion of the world today, editors and writers, can't say those things. A man who writes for a government-controlled newspaper, or the dictator press, can say only those things which are put in his mind by his bosses. And when that happens, the people who read those newspapers are no longer free.

So I would say that National Newspaper week is just as important to you, the reader, as it is to me. It isn't a week in which you are expected to eat more apples, buy a lapel button or don your straw hat. It's simply a week in which, thoughtfully and of your own free will, you should resolve that you will do everything in your power to keep the press of Canada free.

In that way, you will simply be guaranteeing the continuation of your own Freedom!

DEATH WINS HIGHWAY RACE

Traffic fatalities soared to a grim total of 86 deaths on Ontario's streets and highways during August, a tragic result of a huge increase in traffic volume, augmented by a record influx of visiting motorists. This traffic fatality total was still well below the August peak of 1941, when 98 traffic deaths occurred, but it tops the 1937-41 average of 84.4 deaths in this summer month.

This rise in August fatalities, in the wake of the startling 51% increase for the preceding month, confirms and impresses the recent warnings of Highways Minister Douglas that late summer and fall traffic conditions would be more dangerous than ever before. Opening the August list were the 7 highway deaths over the Civic Holiday weekend, with six persons killed in two accidents, and opening the September and early fall period were the Labour Day tragedies.

Analysis of recent losses reveal two startling facts which are not always disclosed in a survey of accident causes and effects:

- (1) the number of accidents occurring clearly due to personal carelessness or recklessness;

- (2) the disturbing dualism to Ontario children, loss of planes and loss of a parent or parents.

In the first instance, August saw a long list of accidents in which racing motorists, or sheer driver carelessness and recklessness were the basic causes. It confirms the contention that the responsibility is almost always on the driver.

In the second instance, of the 86 persons killed in the month on Ontario's streets and highways, 13 were children of eight years of age or under. In addition, several times that number of children lost one or more parents.

This loss to defenseless children is a grim reminder that Ontario motorists are now entering the most critical month of the year for traffic accidents involving children, with school again underway. Department of Highways officials are urging motorists to take special care in any area in which children are likely to be found—near schools, residential areas and playgrounds, and along the school routes. More than in any other type of accident, the onus is on the driver where children are concerned.

THE CHICKEN OR THE EGG?

When we were children, the next most popular riddle to "Why does a chicken cross the road?" was "Which came first, the chicken or the egg?" The answer to the first was easy, but the answer to the second was, and still is, somewhat befuddled.

The chicken and egg riddle can be brought up to date in these postwar years and it would read like this: "Which came first, the price increase or the wage increase?" It is a question that is not designed for children and even intelligent adults who argue it will only suffer needless headaches for their pains. The argument would lead nowhere as far as an answer is concerned, but there would certainly be food for thought in the discussion. Like the chicken and the egg, you can't have a wage increase without a price increase and vice versa!

Management granting a wage increase is forced to increase the price of its product to the consumer and who is the consumer but the chap who just got the wage increase? This chap, in turn, argues that the price increase originally came first and he and his union go after another wage increase. And so the spiral, viciously twisting heavenward, hoists the cost of living another notch or three while Mr. and Mrs. Canadian Public groan. The end? Quite possibly in the weird bubble of the Chinese dollar and economic self-destruction!

Yes, wage increases and price increases are absolutely inseparable, but if you stop and think a minute you must realize that there is a solution, an all-powerful remedy to this spiral of inflation. If production per man-hour increases first, then a wage increase is in order, because increased production will stabilize prices. The goods will be there for the added money to buy. But if production does not increase, it simply means that the added money in the consumer's pocket will be chasing a vanishing product higher and higher in price.

SMALLER FAMILIES

During the six years from the 1941 census to June, 1947, the number of families in Canada increased by approximately 20 per cent, statistics show. On the other hand, there was a decline in the average size of the family. The estimated number of families in June last year was 3,042,000, which is an increase of 516,701 over the number recorded in the 1941 census.

This gain is shared by all the provinces, the increases ranging from 11 per cent for the Prairie provinces to 37 per cent for British Columbia. For the Maritime provinces the rise in number is estimated at 15 per cent, Quebec 25 per cent, and Ontario 18 per cent.

Threshers In The Coulee

Life on a Wisconsin farm, even for the women, had its compensations. There were times when the daily routine of lonely and monotonous house-work gave place to an agreeable bustle, and human intercourse lightened the toll. In the midst of the slow progress of the fall plowing, the gathering of the threshing crew was a most dramatic event to my mother as to us, for it not only brought unwanted clamor, it fetched her brothers William and David and Frank, who owned and ran a threshing machine, and their coming gave the house an air of festivity which offset the burden of extra work which fell upon us all.

It was all poetry for us and we wished every day were threshing day. The wind blew cold, the clouds went flying over the bright blue sky, and the straw gleamed in the sun. With jarring snarl the clogging zone of cogs dipped into the sturdy green sheaves, and the single-trees and pulley-chains chirped clear and sweet as crickets. The at flew, the whip cracked, and the men creaking swiftly to get the sheaves to the feeder to take the straw away from the tail-end of the machine, were like warriors, urged to deeper action by battle cries. The stackers wading to their waists in the fluffy straw-pile seemed gnomes acting for our amusement.

At last the call for dinner sounded. The driver began to call, "Whoa there, boys! Steady, Tom," and to hold his long whip before the eyes of the more spirited of the teams in order to convince them that he really meant "stop." The pitchfork stuck their Ontario had an estimated 1,073,000 families, consisting of 3,630,000 persons, in June last year. Quebec had 812,000 with an aggregate of 3,516,000 persons; the three Prairie provinces 591,000 with 2,170,000 persons; British Columbia 293,000 families with a total of 965,000 persons; and the Maritime provinces 278,000 with 1,083,000 persons.

Average size of Canadian families in 1947 was 3.7 persons as compared with 3.9 persons at the 1941 census, the bureau estimates showing a decrease in every region. In the Maritime provinces the average size declined from 4.2 in 1941 to 4.0 persons; in Quebec, from 4.5 to 4.3; Ontario from 3.6 to 3.4; Prairie provinces from 4.0 to 3.7; and British Columbia from 3.4 to 3.3 persons.

Due largely to the increase in marriages and of first and second births over the period 1941 to 1947, increased numbers and proportions of families in 1947, as compared with 1941, consisted of two, three or four persons, and a resulting decrease was shown in the proportion with five or more persons. Seventy-five per cent of all families were composed in 1947 of two to four persons as compared with 70.8 per cent in 1941.

THE ORANGE CROP

This district, of course, is not directly interested in the orange crop, as it is in the peach and other yields native to the peninsula, but everybody eats oranges or consumes orange juice at one time or another. The condition of the industry in Florida is worrisome, and they are "in the red." And that is not the case with the fruit growing industry here.

An interesting despatch from Florida tells about the enormous crop increase. Ten years ago it amounted to 41,000,000 boxes. Two years ago it was 84,000,000. Last year it had climbed to 95,000,000.

In January, 1946, a top price of $5.48 a box for oranges was reached. The peak last season was $4.15 and the auction average for this season was only $3.27. Production costs have mounted to a new high and, although the industry sees more red ink ahead, workers are seeking wage boosts.

Floridians are watching the situation with considerable anxiety, since the economy of the state bears an extremely close relationship to the citrus industry.

One consequence of the drop in prices is that groves which three years ago sold for $2,500 an acre can now be bought for less than $1,000 an acre.

Compare the latter price per acre to that for the best in the Niagara district. The orchards here are much more valuable.

Letters to the Editor

85 Victoria Street, Grimsby, Ont.
September 17th, 1948.

J. Livingstone, Esq.,
The Grimsby Independent,
Grimsby, Ontario.

Dear Sir,

May I, as Chief Sub Editor of the Grimsby News, enlist the aid of your readers in what I am sure you will agree is a very worthy cause?

As you will no doubt have seen by the story in the Grimsby News of September 16th, 1948, we are sponsoring an appeal for toys, games, and even cash towards the outfitting of a home for the orphaned children of Grimsby fishermen.

A local businessman here has given the young-store a home in a converted Manor House at North Grimsby, Lincolnshire, and The Grimsby News has started a fund to find the necessary little extras which go to turn four walls into a home in the true sense of the word.

If your readers can do anything to aid these children of a Grimsby 3,000 miles away we shall be more than grateful.

Sincerely,
Douglas Grant.

HYDRO IS YOURS—SAVE IT!

Can you tell me what a Pharmaceutical Pharmacist is? Answer next week.

If I ever see water in the Old Forty Creek again I am going to have Bobby Aldrick take a picture of it.

Want to know who the best dressed man in Grimsby is? Ask the feminine portion of the Bank of Commerce staff.

The moustache is off. Ma wielded more power than My Widow. Go ahead and grow another one Mel. You have no competition now.

Brother, when I observe some of Grimsby's lovely women stepping down street it makes me feel mighty proud to live in Grimsby.

So far as Grimsby police are concerned I am only sorry that Constable George Seymour was not 20 years younger. And that goes for a lot of people in this town.

The Independent is in the doldrums. Art Brydson the "Rembrandt" of the Lindsay Bros. paint brigade, has returned to Queen's University. As a painter, Art was a right smart young cub reporter.

Fifty poor Dewey Thompson in this power crisis. A lot of people seem to think that Dewey is carrying himself around in his pocket just to be handed out like free samples of shaving cream.

It won't be long now until Thomas Warner, Traffic Manager, of Niagara Packers, will again be Thomas Warner, general factotum of Grimsby Arena. Like the birds and the bees he changes with the seasons.

If I was Honey Elliott I would make some of those Back Shop regulars provide their own seating accommodation. Incidentally, with the entire season drawing nigh, also provide their own cards and cupboards.

As I sit and try and write, a bunch of Miata is running up and down Main Street, making life hideous for all within hearing distance with the blasting of their motor horns. And for what? Just because some poor fellow has decided to become a work horse for life.

Scott Fishing Tackle Co. executives report that the coming season is going to be a record breaker. Orders for fishing tackle of every description are pouring in on every mail for next spring delivery. Just another growing Grimsby industry started by an R.C.A.F. veteran with the know-how.

Tomorrow is the first of October. It won't be long until you will have to put the red flannels on. Jim Fisher has moved his dry land shipyard off Main Street. He is now located in the big barn at the rear of Andy Stevenson's home on Mountain Street. He informs this column that he has enough orders for boats on hand to keep him busy all winter.

Just because there is a wedding is that any reason why certain young people should display themselves on Main Street in a condition that they should not be in. That little scene at the corner of Depot and Main and the P.O. steps on Saturday afternoon was disgraceful. I only hope that witnesses do not blame the situation on the beverage rooms, for they are absolutely out of the picture.

A little bit of the Netherlands on Main Street on Saturday afternoon. Papa and Mama and the grown-ups and the little ones all taking in the sights. Dressed in Canada clothes, except for the wooden shoes, that clumped, clumped as they walked down the concrete. Clean, fine looking, intelligent people. They are the family that Pierre M. A. Kellen of North Grimsby, brought in last spring. It is immigrants of this type and from the British Isles that Canada needs, thanks to George Drew, and not so many of the D. P.'s.

When Harry Holmes pushes the time clock sometime tonight or tomorrow morning he will have completed 30 years of valued service with the Canadian Packers, all at the Robinson street branch. He started work for the company under the late Edward Todd on October 1st, 1918. The following season he was placed in charge of the scales weighing in the fruit and vegetables and has held that position ever since. He has served under three generations of the Todd family. First the late Edward Todd, then Norman J. Todd and now Bruce Todd. Harry is still going strong and looks and acts good for another 30 years. How old is he? ? ?

When Frank L. Burns, Editor of The Advertiser, Kesterville, N.S., visited The Independent last week he and I had a great confab. Down his way it is all apples and it is really a beautiful country. This is the first time that he had ever visited the Great Grimsby Fruit Belt and he was not only amazed at the beauty of our homes, our location, our natural beauty and our women, but he was doubly amazed at the smallness of our farms and could not understand how a fruit grower could "even scratch" off a living from such a small piece of ground. I honestly believe that he left the sanctum sanctorum convinced that I was the greatest bar on earth over from $1,000 to $2,000 an acre. Incidentally Frank is an old school chum of Charlie Webster, Mountain St. You know who I mean, "Snowplow Charlie."

It is said that man is the only animal who can be skinned twice. All you have to do is to make the gold-brick more attractive.

DON'T BE AFRAID OF THE DARK

By PRUNELLA WOOD

DON'T look now, but not far behind you are the early dusks which lead to chilly, dark nights . . . dark before dinner, dark before 9-to-5 hours are finished.

If you are about to ride in the afternoon, like the girls photographed above; if you are stopping to play on the way home from school; if you are a bicycle, walk, or dog strolling fan by night, through necessity or predilection, you'll go for the new reflector tape which, used as trimming on your clothes, warns the pouncing motor driver that you are dead ahead. Or rather, still alive, ahead, and flashing a beware signal. In good colors, both bright and tweedy, the tape (as seen attached on the pants, lapels, cuffs in picture) makes a neat fashion detail and withstands dry cleaning, pressing and wet weather.—Scotchlite.

Strictly Canadian
by Claire Wallace

There is only one school in the world for church ushers and that is at the University of Omaha, Nebraska, and the man who originated the idea is Mr. E. M. Hosman, Director of Adult Education. Starting the course four years ago, Mr. Hosman has now numbered approximately 2,500 ushers through it. Among these have been correspondence-course students from all over the continent, including a number from British Columbia, Nova Scotia and Ontario.

Mr. Hosman told me that as the son of a Methodist minister, he has been a church usher, on and off, all his life. He said "God doesn't like shoddy work," so he tried to be a good usher and that's what led to founding his unique course.

The greatest fault of an usher, said this authority, is his attitude to his job. He doesn't realize the contribution he can make to the worshipful atmosphere of a church. If an usher is too jovial, too half-funny, too well-met, fond of back-slapping, shaking hands, laughing, perhaps telling stories to the members of the congregation, particularly as they leave the church, he sends the congregation away in a frivolous, gossipy mood instead of a thoughtful, inspired frame of mind, contemplating the sermon and deriving benefit from it. So, Mr. Hosman first impresses on his students the fact that, as church ushers, they represent a deeply significant and important institution of recognized society and should approach their duties with sincerity and dignity.

Here are his proven rules of behavior and etiquette for an usher, applying to a church of any denomination or synagogue.

An usher should be dressed in dark, conservative clothes, whether formal church outfit or an ordinary business suit. A vividly colored tie should be avoided; his shoes and shirt should be quiet in tone. There should never be cigars sticking up in his pocket, or anything which will detract from his well-groomed look. He may, and should, have some distinguishing item about his outfit to signify he is an usher . . . a boutonniere is preferable.

An usher should not walk too far ahead of the person he is leading to a seat, else the one following is apt to grow discouraged and sidle into a seat half-way down the aisle. Walking approximately two paces ahead is the right distance. On reaching the pew, the usher should turn and face the person he is leading, and direct him into the pew without touching him. When the church member is seated, the usher should hand him the church notice, prayer book or hymn book.

An usher should not talk unless necessary. Shaking hands is to be avoided in church, as is gum chewing and any undue familiarity with members of the congregation. Mr. Hosman particularly stressed that ushers should not "paw" women.

During a National Anthem, a special musical number or prayer, an usher should not show anyone to a pew but ask them to remain at the back of the church until that number is over.

The aged or infirm should be given special attention by the usher. He should be aware of newcomers, or of regular members who have returned after being absent a Sunday or two, and speak a quiet word or two of welcome.

Questions and Answers

Mrs. T. W., Summerside, P.E.I.: Candles are never used on a table in daylight, so are not suitable for luncheon parties, nor for a tea unless the curtains are drawn or the dining room is without light.

Q. In making introductions, who is the more important—a young married woman or an elderly spinster?

A. In Victorian days, the married woman, no matter her age, took precedence over the spinster. In those days, age would be the determining factor, so that the young married woman would be introduced to the elderly unmarried woman.

Q. We're thinking of giving a surprise party to a relative age 90. Is this wise?

A. No. Kinder to prepare elderly people for coming festivities so they can be rested and prepared for the excitement.

Q. When the death occurs of a friend or relative, is it necessary to visit the funeral home or is attending the funeral sufficient?

A. Not necessary to do both. Those who can, attend the funeral; others visit the funeral home and sign the visitor's book.

Q. Does an invitation to a wedding mean for the reception, too?

A. Sometimes guests are invited to the church only, but usually the invitation will read, in the lower left-hand corner, "And afterwards at 28 8th Avenue" and that means you are invited to the reception, too.

Q. How soon do you send a wedding present and to whom?

A. The wedding gift is always sent to the bride and within a week or so of receiving the invitation.

Q. When announcing an engagement or marriage, is it correct to add degrees and fraternity, or are these better left out?

A. A degree which is a title, such as "the Reverend" or "Doctor" may be used but such degrees as M.A., Reg.N. are not used and fraternal affiliations are always omitted.

Q. A friend tells me it is wrong to say "Pleased to meet you" when being introduced to a stranger, even if you are! What do you think?

A. Your friend is right. Correct greeting: "How do you do" but you can always add a friendly, "I've looked forward to meeting you" if it is someone you've wanted to know.

Q. At dinner, is there any special way to unfold a napkin? And should it be laid across the lap half-folded or fully opened?

A. Unfold the napkin below the level of the table and without any flourish. Place half-folded across the lap and hope it will stay there.

Q. Because our name is difficult to spell and pronounce, we are planning to have it legally changed. How should we let our friends know? Can we send out announcements?

A. Yes, it would be correct to send out announcements of your change of name and for business purposes, a paid notice is sometimes run in a newspaper.

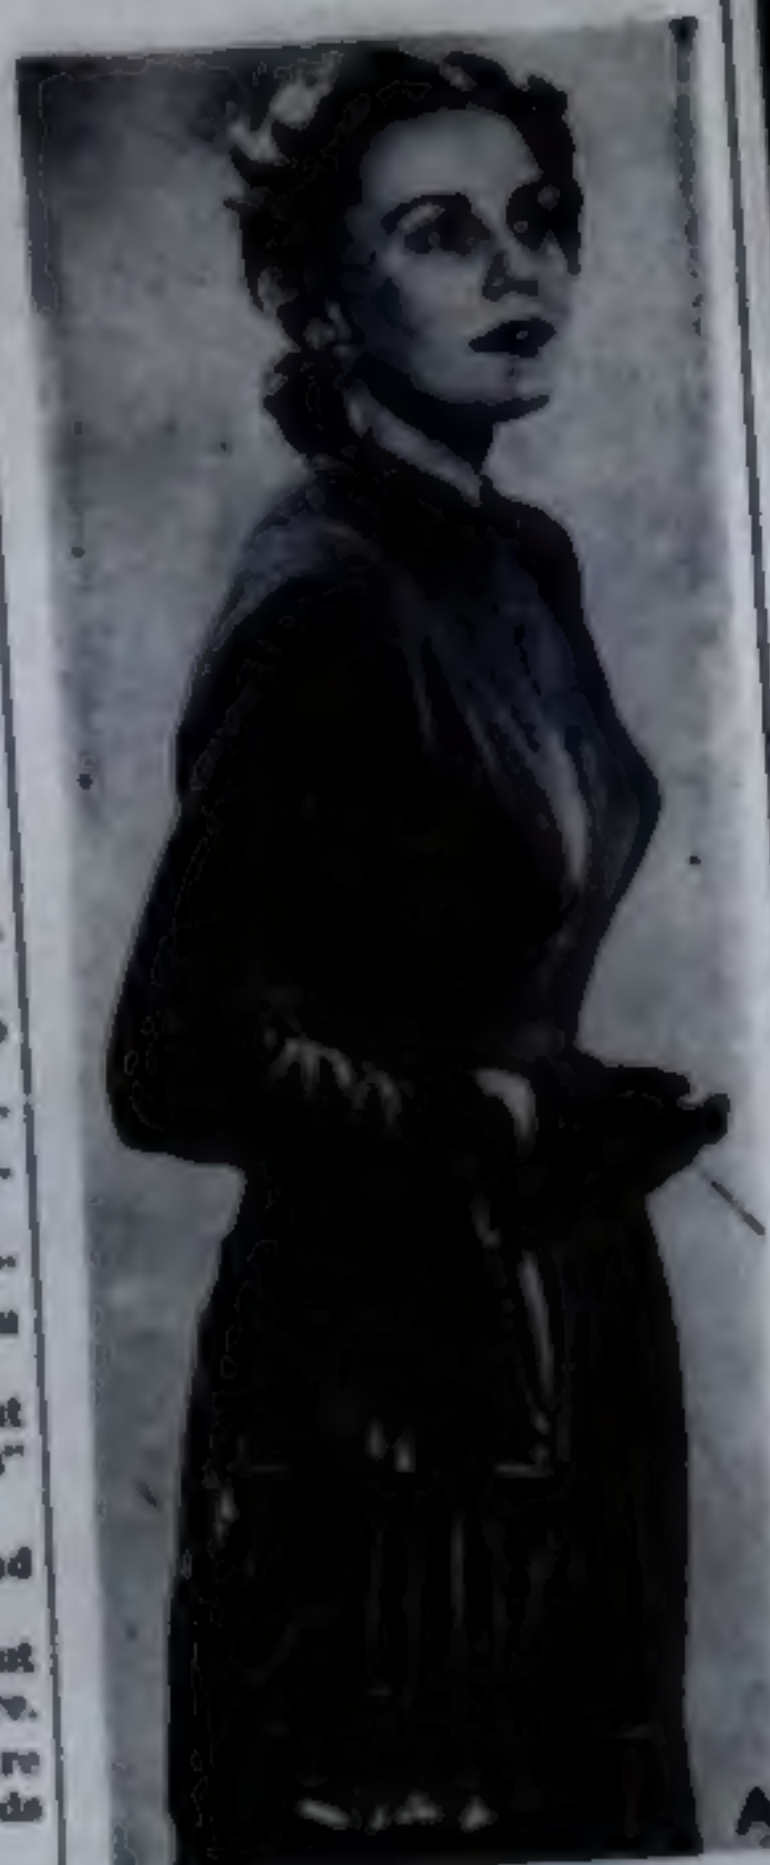

Q. If one can attend only the wedding and not the reception, should one say so in replying to the invitation?

A. A formal invitation should be answered formally, so accept for the wedding and regret you cannot attend the reception. Thus the hostess will know how many to cater for.

Q. What is correct seating of guests at a dinner party?

A. Woman guest of honor sits on host's right, second most important woman on his left. Most important male guest is seated on hostess' right, second most important male guest on her left. Others are seated so that husbands and wives or two members of the same sex are not side by side.

GLITTERING ACCESSORIES

By ALICE ALDEN

POINTING UP the emphasis on the neckline is the glitter of clips. The nicest way to accent a high neckline, a squared or a draped effect, is through the sparkling medium of beautiful clips. Castlediff's right and left scrolls of tiny brilliants and graduated colored stones add up to charm when worn on each side of a neckline or when worn close together in an alternate diagonal. The tiny scroll earrings match.

Hello Homemakers! How far will five dollars worth of meat go for five people? The so-called inexpensive cuts which are usually meat extras such as liver, heart, sausage, amount to the same price as chops and cutlets in proportion, when served hot. Last week-end, our order was a roast of beef although the price per pound seemed prohibitive for the budget. With due consideration to saving electricity, we placed the meat in a cold oven. When the thermometer registered 350 degrees on Bake which meant that we were heating the oven and the meat using the bottom element only, we took out the roast, covered it and left it to cook slowly in the "meat-heat" while we placed a cake in the oven for 45 mins. As the cake was taken out the meat was uncovered and replaced in the oven. Actual roasting time was calculated from this point allowing 25 minutes per pound.

The greatest saving was effected by slicing the roast when cold with a good sharp knife. Even servings amounted to 5 slices per pound. This does not necessarily mean that meat should be served cold, you can heat the slices in gravy or over the potato kettle in parchment paper or aluminum foil. By the way, sliced meat has a tendency to curl so weight the pieces with a plate or small cover.

Cooking in a pressure cooker is another method of preventing meat shrinkage. The constant heat in the sealed-tight saucepan will cook meat tender in a short time without loss of moisture. Allow 12 minutes to the pound for well-done roast or chuck pieces. Veal is cooked to perfection at 15 lbs. pressure as follows: Select a 3-pound boned leg of veal and cut about 15 pads, one-half inch deep into it. Insert a sliver of garlic into each section. Rub the roast with flour, salt and pepper. Brown in open saucepan with a very little fat (1 tsp.). Then put rack in cooker; add 1/2 cup hot water and the meat; adjust the cover and when it begins to steam or indicate pressure, allow 16 mins. per pound or 1 1/2 hour. Usually ten minutes before end of cooking period we cool the saucepan under the cold water tap thus reducing the pressure; take off the lid and add the vegetables. When the indicator registers the 15 lbs. pressure again we watch the clock for exactly 5 mins. Time, food and fuel are saved with this method of cooking.

ADDITIONAL SUGGESTIONS

1. The meat and use shavers as well to keep meat pieces in dripping if necessary.

4. Cook ham with rind on to prevent shrinkage.
5. Buy tongue and meat extras when you can. Pressure cook tongue at 15 lbs. allowing 14 mins. per pound and cook liver in the oven with tomatoes or saute slowly in a pan.

THE QUESTION BOX
Miss F. M. asks for:
VARIETY CHEESE SPREAD
1 pound Cheddar-type cheese
1 tall can evaporated milk
seasonings to taste
(see suggestions)

Grate cheese or cut in small pieces. Put cheese and milk in top part of double boiler; cook over hot water, stirring constantly, just until cheese melts. Remove from heat and season to taste. Pour into container, let cool, and then store in the refrigerator.

Suggested seasonings:
Minced chives, parsley, pickle relish, caraway seed, prepared mustard, or minced green pepper or chopped olives.

TAKE A TIP

1. Asparagus rolls can be made easily if the square slices of bread are steamed. Method of steaming: pour boiling water over a towel, then lift the wet towel onto a dry one; wring out quickly and place bread between folds of steaming cloth.

2. Heat semi-sweet chocolate over boiling water until partly melted; then remove from boiling water and stir rapidly until entirely melted. Pour chocolate evenly over chopped nuts and graham cracker crumbs in a greased pan. Let pan stand in a cool place to harden. Cut in bars.

3. If you use canned peaches as dessert, add a drop of almond extract.

4. There are plenty of leftovers from special luncheons — bread crumbs are common. Put crumbs through the grinder and use in a variety of bread puddings, stuffings, soups, croquettes and meat loaves. Keep crumbs fresh by storing in a jar covered with cloth in the refrigerator.

AFTERTHOUGHT

Be sure you never place your feet,

FALL SUIT VARIATIONS

By ALICE ALDEN
THE LONG shapely jacket is again a part of the quality suit picture, as you'll discover when you go shopping for your autumn wardrobe. But there are subtle differences, new details which a glance at this handsome suit will show. Samuel Kane makes it of an ethereal wool worsted, which, of itself, means a new suit color. Very new are the double pocket flaps and never still, the idea of merging the flaps into a back bow tie, discreet to be sure, but none the less a touch. A double pointed collar tops the slim jacket which is fastened with antique amethyst buttons.—New York Dress Institute.

weeks of August. Of the 1,260 growers eligible to vote, only 330 cast their ballot, or 26 per cent. Of the 330 ballots cast, 304 were in favour of the proposed scheme, 42 were opposed and four ballots were spoiled.

Since the 304 "yes" votes hardly represents 25 per cent. of those eligible to vote, the board decided against recommending the scheme for approval.

Should the industry decide to re-open the matter, particularly after the experience gained in marketing this year's grape crop, when a much larger proportion than before will have to be sold for fresh fruit, then this proposal will have to be dropped and a new vote taken.

THE NEW HOSPITAL

Of particular interest are the contents of the corner stone itself—a jar of wheat from the Smithville area, a bottle of wine distilled from Grimsby grapes, a jar of peaches, product of Beamsville and district, a bottle of tomato sauce from Winona, coins and stamps, and the newspaper records of the opening of the original hospital, its destruction by fire, the account of the new hospital to come, and the story of the drought in the Niagara Peninsula this year.

All these speak of things temporal—to them will be added a copy of the New Testament, salvaged from the fire, to remind us of things spiritual.

Accommodation for the registration of all present is being arranged under the chairmanship of Mrs. M. Cudney, Winona. In order that all possible names may be included in the registration, the public is requested to sign at the nearest desk prior to the commencement of the service, after which the lists of names will then be incorporated with the contents of the corner stone.

As the service progresses, recordings will be made by radio stations CHML and CKTB for re-broadcast Sunday evening, thus giving those who are not able to be present a share in this ceremony, which begins anew the service, which through brief, had won an honoured place in the heart of its community.

to see anything different, but because it seems only proper to come to the fair. Here people meet, talk over their crops, their prospects for a good year—or a bad one. Agree that the fall wheat should be in, but ... the ground is so dry this fall.

Proud mothers exhibit their babies. A tractor salesman demonstrates to a bunch of husky grain farmers the latest model baler. Kids dash frantically over the grounds, their fifty-cent allowances gone in the first half hour. Thrill-seekers take a dip in a hay aircraft, while an anxious relative closes her eyes, as the craft side slips to a landing in a crowding.

A big farm boy swings a mighty mallet and rings the bell, as his cronies urge him on. A small time gambler never blinks an eye on the throw of the dice. Over-cooked hamburgers lie in a sea of grease, yet even they taste good out here under the clear blue sky.

From a point of vantage the starter attempts to get the sulky drivers off to a fair start. "Bring that pole horse up, Mr. O'reene." From time to time the band strikes up, its braves glistening in the bright autumn sun. From the air the scene is one of humanity moving like ants between rows of painted canvas. From the ferris wheel come shrieks of laughter as an impatient attendant loads and unloads his passengers.

Soon the scene begins to change. Livestock is loaded, while a happy farmer wears a winner's blue ribbon won by his prize Jersey. A thin trickle heads for the gate as the afternoon sun begins to sink in the skure west. There are chores to be done at home, for a majority of these people are the dairy and grain farmers of this fertile country. Kids are rounded up, some clutching cheap little keeple dolls won at the ring game. Soon the midway is almost deserted, already the rough and ready men who tour the fall fair circuit are bringing down their tents. The scene changes as darkness gradually inks out what has been a scene of frolic, sportsmanship, competition, and most of all, where neighbours got together for this one grand day.

By morning when a new strong sun gradually erases the dew from the scene, tattered remains of the previous day litter the once placid field. The gaunt grandstand looms up in the morning light—a sentinel alone for another year, when again it will be witness to the good people who make up our traditional fall fair. May it ever be the same.

COMMUNION SUNDAY

CALL TO ALL CHRISTIAN COMMUNICANTS

To all Christian people of whatever denominational allegiance the act of participation in the Holy Communion is the most sacred part of their worship. The call goes out from each Church to its entire communicant roll to be present at the Holy Communion in their own Church next Sunday, October 3rd, which is being observed as World Communion Sunday.

It is a great thing to feel oneself part of a great world-wide family. The Christian Church is nowhere co-extensive with the total population—in many places it is a small minority; but it is nowhere insignificant. Everywhere throughout the world it is a strong factor in the totality of influences—materially stronger numerically than it was in the great days of our Lord and His Apostles. The important thing is that the total Christian membership should bear its witness before the world of the values which it places on belief and trust in the love, mercy and forgiveness of Almighty God and in Jesus Christ as Lord and Ruler of the lives of men and His providential control of His World.

As each one responds to this call to be present at the Holy Communion next Sunday he will bear this witness in company with a great multitude of people throughout the world.

Just now when there is so much dividing men and nations, Christians must maintain an unbroken fellowship in Christ Jesus our Lord.

Some time ago a sailor told the trouble to put into words the impression that had been made upon him by a Communion Service aboard his ship. He says: "There were men of all nationalities and colours, but it came to me as I saw them kneel and reassert their belief in Him, that men look pretty much alike when they bow their heads in prayer. There weren't any comfortable seats there, no colour-painted stained-glass windows, no pulpit nor any of the 'finix'—nothing except the harvest sea and the implements of war, hatred and murder. But the Divine Presence hovered over them men who took time to humble themselves. Of that I am sure."

GRIMSBY BEACH WOLF CUBS

With Gary Udell doing a grand job of leading the Howl, the Grimsby Beach Wolf Cubs opened another happy meeting on Friday afternoon. While the Cubs stood around the campfire Akela invited Leonard Kowalski, Reuben Riddout and Hans Yimar, and these new Cubs were proud to wear their neckerchiefs and to have a place in the circle with their brother Cubs. The Pack cheered a welcome to them. After the ceremony Akela told a story that made all the Cubs chuckle.

Stanley Pyett of the Red Six brought some moths that were admired by the whole Pack, and Bill Jackson, though on the sick list, sent one from his collection for the Blue Six. The pennant race is on, and all the Sixes are spurred up and anxious to gain points to win this coveted award.

Before the meeting ended the Cubs went outside and enjoyed a dandy game of baseball as it was a perfect afternoon for "home-run" hitting.

A CORRECTION

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Mitchell, and son Richard, wish The Independent to announce that they have absolutely no knowledge of the engagement inserted in last week's issue of the paper. The Independent greatly regrets that this notice was published.

Trinity S.S.

The combined services of Sunday School and Church on Rally Sunday was a great success.

The service was conducted by Mr. M. A. Johnson and a story, The Llama and the Bibles, was read by Allen Bentley.

Mr. D. Kennedy's Treble Choir rendered a selection with Miss Nancy Gardham as soloist. Misses Ellen York and Ann Terry and Billy Tennant sang the trio. It would seem that the Treble Choir is something to look forward to, as great things are being planned for the members.

Don't forget next Sunday is Promotion Sunday, so let's have a good turnout.

ST. JOHN'S CHURCH

At St. John's Presbyterian Church, Grimsby, the fall activities are getting well started. Sunday School is being held every Sunday morning at 10 o'clock. Next Sunday our scholars will be thrilled with a movie film telling a lovely story.

This Friday evening at 8 o'clock a service preparatory to the observance of The Lord's Supper on Sunday morning, will be held. The session urges every member "as much as lieth in you" to be present at both these services on this special occasion of World Communion Day.

Next Sunday the first of the evening services for the fall and winter terms will begin at 7 o'clock. This will take the form of an Isaac Watts hymn-sing. This year marks the one hundredth anniversary of the passing of the beloved hymn writer. Come prepared to announce your favourite Isaac Watts hymn.

SPORTOLOGY

(By Bones Livingston, Sportologist)

A GREAT SPORT—Harness racing in this day and age may seem something of an anachronism because the horse as a means of road transport is pretty well a thing of the past.

But there is something about a fast horse that everybody seems to love, and to see them in action on a fast track with drivers getting every ounce of speed out of their charges, seems to furnish a thrill that draws the crowds. It would be a good thing to build up interest in such sport because today the tendency of sport is towards professionalism. We need with the average citizen merely a fan who sits and watches. We need more of the kind of recreation which harness racing with an Ontario background and color could bring.

BASEBALL ODDITY—In a baseball game between the University of Wisconsin and Bradley University, there were Bradley men on first and third and no outs. The next batter hit a high foul to the first baseman, who tripped over a tarpaulin and fell down after making the catch. With one out, the man on third decided to score after the catch and accordingly started for home. The catcher got the ball in time but the runner managed to miss the catcher's tag. He also missed the plate and ran all the way to the backstop. The catcher could not follow him because the man on first was well on his way to third and had to be put out. That made two down. When the catcher turned to get the man who had missed home plate the untagged runner had returned to the Bradley bench and could not easily be identified, so the pitcher ran down the bench and began to tag every player. As he neared the end, the man he was after jumped up and ran for home, which was being covered by the pitcher. The catcher tossed the ball to the pitcher, and the runner was officially tagged out. This crazy triple play required nearly two minutes to complete.

SPORT GETTING OUT OF SEASON—There is a lot of truth in the old fable about killing the goose that lays the golden egg. It seems to us that sports promoters are in the process of cooking their goose. Because the sports loving public is flocking to sports events, the promoters are really turning it on. The football teams start tramping over each other in August, under weather conditions that make it impossible for them to play their best. It's got to the point now where the baseball, rugby and hockey seasons all overlap—and the National Hockey League is talking of adding additional games to its already overloaded schedule! We venture to prophesy it won't be too long before the most ardent sports fan will get tired of trying to make up his mind whether to attend a football game in August or December, a baseball game in April or October, or a hockey game in September or May, and go to a movie instead.

Let's play rugby when it should be played, on cool crisp Autumn afternoons; hockey when the snow is deep on the ground and a cold wind is howling around outside the arena; baseball when the fan can sit in shirt-sleeves in the warm sunshine with a bottle of cool pop in his hand.

SNOWBALLS WILL SOON TAKE THE PLACE OF PEACHES—PEACH QUEENS' bowling league gets under way on October 8th. Nothing lacadaical about the game. Did you know that LIMET LYMBURNER is a peach picker. RED GRAHAM tells me that he can pick a team from the PEACH QUEENS' league that will lick any individual team in the MEN'S league, even including the GAS HOUSE. I have it from a very authoritative source that the SPHINX OF ST. ANDREW'S AVENUE has spent considerable time the past two weeks looking over the hockey players in attendance at the various hockey schools being conducted by the pro hockey teams. Try and get any information out of him or his collaborator in crime, one THROCKMORTON SPEECHLESS JARVIS. It is the dumb attitude of guys like them that drive sports writers loco. A cousin of mine from Toronto visited for awhile one day two weeks ago. His father for years conducted one of the finest billiard parlors in Toronto. During his short stay he visited the billiard parlors of LITTLE WHIZZER KANMACHER and his remark to me was "It is one of the cleanest, nicest, best lighted and best conducted small town billiard parlors that I ever was in." It would have to be right or LITTLE WHIZZER wouldn't run it. I know another place of business in this town that I wish the LITTLE WHIZZER would take over. I might get some peanut brittle. THE INDEPENDENT was chided the other day because "HIGH" MACGREGOR was allowed to use up so much space in his crack column "SPORTRAYAL" to laud JOHNNY BELCOT and the SMITHVILLE softball team. The answer was sharp and to the point. "Did not SMITHVILLE win the FRUIT BELT league? Did they not represent the FRUIT BELT league in the O.A.S.A. most creditably? Is not JOHNNY BELCOT the greatest pitcher in the league and one of the greatest in intermediate softball in Ontario? Then why not give them all the credit that is coming to them? If you want to live within your own eggshell that is your business, but you must remember that just because the MERCHANTS or the PEACH KINGS did not win the championship of the district and go on for further laurels that softball in the Fruit Belt had ended for the season. I have known you for years. You were a 10 cent sport 25 years ago. You are a 10 cent sport today. If you live for another 25 years you will still be a 10 cent sport. That goes not only for softball but hockey and every other sport in this district. If sport in the Fruit Belt had to be built up on your kind there wouldn't be any, yet it is your breed of Peaches that do all the yapping. You wouldn't like me to tell you a few incidents of how you tried to get your way into the local Arena? Would you like me to print how you tried to frig your way to Oshawa and when the train pulled out you were still standing on the platform? Your kind are no good to sport and never were and the best thing you and your ilk can do is keep your mouth shut or else I am going to mention names." Folks, it is people like this that cause good sports to quite the game, no matter what the game is. They never put up a dollar but they have more to say about this and about that than the people that are putting up the dollars. MEN'S BOWLING LEAGUE will get into operation on Monday night next. This season there are 20 teams in the league of six players each. Some teams still have not a full complement of players and any footloose bowler who would like to become a member of a team can do so by making application to LIMET LYMBURNER at THE BOWLAWAY. To date no report has emanated from GAS RAHN as to where the GAS HOUSE gang will finish next April. YOUNG FUD REED, crack hit-em-hard defenceman of the PEACH KINGS is a happy but bewildered boy. He is the papa of a bouncing baby daughter. He already has two sons. The arrival of the lassie kicked his dream of an ALL-REED hockey team of the future into a cocked hat. She might turn out to be the best hockey player of the trio at that.

Frank Goup's Wildcats are having a rough go of things as far as the injury list is concerned. Going into Tuesday's game with the Alouettes, Wildcats had Bob McKay and Vic Otto missing for sure, while no less than four other players were doubtful starters. Don Tonna, who is suffering from several cracked ribs was also kept off the line-up.

George Kopulon, the backfielder from Winona, was included in the lineup as the "Cats" headed for Montreal.

Wildcats have shown plenty of power in the Big Four, but will have to provide plenty of wins for Hamilton and district fans if they are to keep ahead of the Tigers on the popularity parade.

The experts, after watching the Tigers run rampant against Toronto Combines, go so far as to give the Tabbies a margin over all the Big Four teams. It will be sometime yet, however, before Canadian football fans will be able to see how the Tigers stack up against such teams as Ottawa, Argos and Alouettes.

The Tigers with Frank Filchuck master-minding are certainly a powerful club, both on the defensive and the offensive. What would happen if Filchuck were injured, is enough to give Tiger rosters the screaming meemies.

Local football enthusiasts will be able to see the Wildcats in action this Saturday, when they tangle with the league-leading Ottawa Rough Riders at Hamilton Civic Stadium.

Richard Morley, after an absence of many years, is again an official starter for the Canadian Trotting Association. Mr. Morley was in charge of the trotting events at the Smithville Fair on Saturday afternoon, and will likely participate in other events at fall fairs this autumn.

Speaking of trotters, it is not until you have seen the new automatic starting gate function, that you realize how much it adds to the enjoyment of the sport. A starter has a tough job on his hands, particularly when there is a sizable entry on those narrow tracks, whereas with the gate a lot of time and energy is saved. To say nothing of the crowds patience.

After an absence of almost ten years, an Intercollegiate Track and Field Meet is being arranged, and is scheduled for the Beamsville sports field on Friday, October 16th. According to Principal A. G. Richmond, of B.H.V.S., Smithville, Merritt and Thorold are sure starters along with Beamsville. Meanwhile Principal Don Awde states that Grimsby High athletes are not likely to participate in the Inter-School meet. The annual Grimsby field day will be held on Friday, October 8th. Mr. Awde and his staff feel that the one day is all that Grimsby students can afford to spend on the sports field.

Day and night, more dependable than ever

TODAY, telephones are four times as free from "trouble" as twenty years ago, and there are twice as many of them!

Each month 10,000 are being added so that soon all may have dependable telephone service and the security that goes with it.

This is being done in spite of rising costs, yet up to now there has been no increase in the basic telephone rates established 21 years ago.

For you, this means greater value than ever before; for us, the satisfaction of providing "the best telephone service at the lowest cost".
